

EDWIN

ROSLYN SCHWARTZ

*Edwin thought he would be young forever.
And he almost was...*

Edwin is a wiry, corkish sort of fellow. Though he may appear to be telling a tale for children, that impression is quickly dispelled: Edwin is depressed. He's old enough to die.

Edwin was created by Ros Schwartz after a failed quest to find books for people living with Alzheimer's, and for their loved ones who wished to read to them. She quickly discovered that readers of all ages relate to Edwin as a story and as a meditation. Frank, emotional, and delightful too, Edwin is an entirely original creation, whose irrepressible hero finds his own special redemption in Schwartz's mindful tale.

EDWIN

Written and illustrated by Roslyn Schwartz
Publisher: Dumagrad Books

Format: Hardcover
Pages: 64
Trim: 5.75" w x 5.75" h
Price: CAN $12.95

ISBN: 978-1-988887-04-3
CIP: LCC PS8587.C5785 E39 2019

First run: 1000 copies
Ships: Dec 16 2019

Distribution: LitDistCo
Printing: Marquis Books

DUMAGRAD
CITY OF WORDS

Dumagrad Books
a city of words

info@dumagrad.com
wordcity.ca

ROSLYN SCHWARTZ is one of Canada's most successful and beloved children's authors. A past winner of the Vicki Metcalf Award, her Mole Sisters series has entranced generations of young readers. Roslyn lives in Montreal.